

You must check with your emergency training provider if your certification is equivalent or higher than Standard First Aid and CPR-C (cardiopulmonary resuscitation level C). You are required to have both indicated on your certificate(s). Accepted BC certifications are Canadian Red Cross, Lifesaving Society, St. John Ambulance, Heart and Stroke Foundation, and Canadian Ski Patrol. For training received outside of Canada applicants will need to provide with their certification written confirmation that their training facility meets BC/Canadian course standards. Dedicated online training is not acceptable.
